

I oppose the weakening of Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law in this proceeding involving the CBA (Consumer Banking Association). This law has provided the citizens of Indiana protection from unwanted phone solicitation. This law only protects citizens who request to be on the no call list, so solicitors still have access to the citizens of Indiana who chose not to prohibit these calls.